Specifications

The EVO 3 features a TITANIUM Infra Red reflective internal layer offering unprecedented warmth. The Butyl layer applied to the grey inner polyester lining is heavily impregnated with Titanium oxide offering an Infra Red thermal reflective barrier to minimize heat loss from the thermal undersuit.

The New BIAS CUT pattern design offers up to an extra 7 cms of stretch over the length of the body and 7 cms over the length of the legs. All panels are bias cut for ease of donning and maximum comfort and flexibility. This bias cut feature revolutionises the membrane suit offering incredible comfort and enhanced body contouring with all the strength advantages of the tough and proven square woven trilaminate materials. The 45 degree bias cutting of all the panels results in an 8% stretch factor in every suit panel in both girth and vertical directions.

The NEW SUPER TOUGH CORDURA seat and legs and SUPER SOFT polyester top offer the optimum combination of comfort and durability.
